

This Privacy Policy informs you of policies and practices regarding the information that we collect and use in connection with delivering our Services, your registration with our Services, and your use of the Services. We are Wedwordy, a sole proprietorship registered with Yolo County of California, owned and operated by Rick and Jennifer Tan, and hereafter referred to as "Wedwordy", "We", "Us", or "Our".

This privacy policy governs your use of the Wedwordy website, mobile applications, or other products or services (collectively, the "Services").

We make updates to our privacy policy as our Services continues to develop over time.

By using the Services, you hereby consent to the terms set forth in this Privacy Policy.

Voluntary Information

Signing Up

For you to create a Wedwordy account and/or use the service, we may request data about you: your full name, an email address, a phone number, a payment method (if applicable), including, but not limited to payment processing information. If you choose to purchase the Services, credit card or other payment information is not stored by Wedwordy. Your payment information is processed through Stripe.

Signing In and Active Account

Access to your private app account requires that information such as your email/username and password is stored with Wedwordy. Additional information such as that you have voluntarily entered to complete your Profile is also stored with Wedwordy.

Your active account gives you access to the app services where you may enter personal content. Your account, profile, and personal content information is used for the following purposes: service delivery, analytics, account management, cookies and tracking technologies.

Contact

When you contact us via website and email with questions, feedback, and suggestions you voluntarily give, we collect that information for the following purposes: product and service development and improvement, communication, analysis, verification, and product and service delivery.

Where Information Is Processed

Wedwordy is based in the United States, and information transacted is stored here. Wherever you are in the world, you consent to the processing and transfer of information in and to the U.S. and other countries. The laws of the United States and those of other countries where your information is processed might not be as comprehensive or protective as laws in the country where you live. And while you're in another country, your information may be made available to government or law enforcement requests.

Content Management

The content you create outside of the app's content, and the Wedwordy content you edit are for the purposes of the app's service, which is to help you create your Wedding Ceremony Script. While Wedwordy Admin may be able to monitor and access this information, you are responsible for the content you create. It is subject to unauthorized access, and post-app, when you share with others, becomes public domain. Use discretion in the content you decide to share.

Third Party Analytics

We may let other companies use cookies, web beacons, and other technologies on the Services. These companies may collect information about how you use the Services and other websites and online services over time and across different services. The information collected may include unique device identifiers, device manufacturer and operating system, IP address, browser type, pages viewed, session start/stop time, links clicked, and conversion information. This information may be used to, among other things, analyze and track data, determine the popularity of certain content, and better understand your online activity.

Security

We take all reasonable measures possible to protect the information that we collect from or about you from unauthorized access, use or disclosure. Please be aware that, although we endeavor to provide reasonable security for information we process and maintain, no security system can prevent all potential security breaches.
